When One Door Closes...
Another Door Opens

DEDICATION

Dr. Burke and the class of 2003: we entered these doors at the same time. The circumstances may have been different; We were nervous, frightened freshmen, and, he was the new "big" thing to change this school around. Yet, it is uncertain that the change was any less nerve racking for him, adopting one thousand teenagers and having the overwhelming responsibility of ensuring a bright future for all of them. Both sides have grown and changed over the last four years. There is no doubt that our class has given so much to Melrose High School during our time here, through gifted athletes, bright scholars, award winning artists, talented musicians, innovative fundraisers, successful social events, and never failing attitudes which have persevered through tough times. However, the list gets longer when we pause to think of what our principal has sacrificed and offered for the well being of his students. How many principals do you know who would risk spending limited money on new track uniforms? How many have had the ability to orchestrate a feeling of school spirit and pride that this school has not felt in years? How many would personally congratulate a job well done, or provide special opportunities he knew about for students with specific interests? How many would make available an internship program and understand the importance of seniors to get a head start? How many would admit his school has a drug problem, and take a day of classes away to educate the students about drugs and further their safety? Not many. Dr. Burke has shown a true love for this school and a true vision for what it can be. He has been there from the beginning, and for every step of the way.

It is with gratitude and appreciation that we dedicate this yearbook to him, as proof of what his hard work has produced. Thanks to him we will always know that "WE ARE MELROSE".

As One Door Closes . . .

CLASS OF 2003! As we near that memorable day when we toss our graduation caps in the air and reminisce over the past twelve years together, we are gradually ending an emotional part of our lives. We close the doors to the past, and prepare to open new doors to the future.

During our four years at the high school, we have simply yearned to open doors. We anxiously crossed the bridge to the high school and entered a new environment along with our principal, Dr. Burke, in September of 1999. Although we could not compare him to any other principal, it was clear that his arrival brought safety and stricter policies to the school. Locks were placed on all the entrances, and each student was issued an ID to wear. Now, as Seniors, we are ready to walk out of those doors one last time. We no longer need the key to our second home. With realization that we may not get to chat with our friends everyday at lunch, or yell "We Are Melrose" at the Thanksgiving Day Pep Rally, the locked doors to the bathrooms do no seem like such a big deal.

Our class did not risk conformity. We strove to open new doors when faced with a problem. We had a successful Junior Prom, even when many doubted March would be an acceptable month in which to hold the formal. We introduced MHS Idol, the Fashion Show, and we had our own Mardi Gras Sophomore Party. If problems shut doors in our faces, we found new ways to open doors and solve the problems.

The 2003 Log is our key to the past. Our class events, proms, semis, games, and performances will always be remembered, and the pages of this yearbook will allow us to re-enter our Melrose High School main lobby full of memories. (No ID required) Our class deserves the best. We have worked our hardest to fill the room behind the door, and have formed great relationships along the way. Our class is respected by underclassmen, faculty, and members of the community. We have grown and changed over the years, and every one of us will have contributed to the class of 2003 in some unique way. We have brought out the best in each other and ourselves. We are leaders. As we brave the next stage in our life, we should all feel confident in our future endeavors . . . we all played a role in making the class of 2003 a motivated, diversely talented, well-rounded class. As we close the doors to Melrose High School, we want to remember the people and places that empowered us to open doors to a successful future.

. . . Another Door Opens . . .

Class Advisors

To Ms. Quinn and Mrs. Gilbert- Gokhale,

As hard as we will try, our class will never be able to express how appreciative we are for all you have done for us. Not only have you been our advisors, but also people with whom could connect to and call our friends. Through your continuous hard work, you have shown us how to be leaders since the first day we walked into the high school. Now, four years later, we look back and would like to thank you for what you have done. Thank you for the endless amount of your time spent at fundraisers such as car washes, Dockside nights, bake sales, and selling blow pops and dance tickets. The money raised then went on to finance our wonderful class events. We will remember how you made the idea of the freshman semi into a reality, along with the sophomore event and proms. As we leave Melrose High School, we will bring along many memories which were made possible by your dedication, enthusiasm, and care for our class. You came into our lives opening many doors to different opportunities, and helped us in creating some of the most unforgettable memories. If we did not tell you everyday how much we appreciate all you did for us, then at least our smiles we greeted you with every time we saw you did. Our class will never forget you and all you have done for us. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Class of 2003

Student Life

Part of what defines a high school is its social life. What would MHS be like without the prom to look forward to, or dances to let loose? Some of the best memories made in these four short years were spent with friends in and out of school. The fun times engaged as a class at pep rallies, games, fashion show, and Mr. Melrose Pageants, were unique and memorable. The fun continued outside of school either with short ski trips or voyages to a foreign country. With all the excitement around the school it's safe to say that there is never a dull moment with Melrose students.

Profiles

We are each individuals, and combined we form a class. We have spent years together, and now this part of our life is coming to an end, and so a door is closing. Before we are shut out, everyone deserves a chance to record their final thoughts, memories, and pictures to be remembered by. In the following pages, the senior class has done their best to leave their final mark. Although it is nearly impossible to sum up what one would like to say or remember in a small paragraph, the students of the class of 2003 did so, thus creating closure and finally walking out the door.

Education is what remains when what was learned is forgotten

Four years gone in a flash, at the time the days seemed to drag on and on but the months and weeks flew by, and now its over, weird huh?! Everything we see is a shadow cast by which we do not see - MLK

"I can remember as a child looking in a mirror and thinking, 'I don't like that!' It's wrong. You're bombarded with all these images and nobody's like that. The effect is total disillusionment with yourself. You put on a mask and hide from yourself, from your own soul, from what you've got to offer. It's a reaction away from the individual, and we stand for individualism." Bono of U2

To the Class of '03...

To the Class of 2003-

Working with you for four years has been an enriching and fun-filled experience. You have impressed us with your flexibility and ability to cooperate with situations. You entered the school under a new administration and adapted to many new and stringent rules. You set an excellent example for all the classes who have followed you. As freshman, you showed yourselves to be a personality filled group full of young men and women with the potential to be great leaders for the school.

As a group you have rolled with the punches, for example a junior prom in the middle of March! You have rallied around your classmates by supporting those in need through grief and loss. You have celebrated one another's achievements and plans for post-graduation through the creation of "stars."

You have shown great integrity and class in everything you have endeavored to do around the school and in the community and as a result, have earned the respect of both the faculty and administration. It has been an honor and a pleasure being your class advisors and you have never failed to do us proud. We have gleefully touted you as "our class"!

Saying goodbye to you is bitter sweet. We shall miss you dearly but you leave us with indelible memories. As you set off on the road to the rest of your lives, we wish you safe travels, wonderful adventures, and great success. We hope to hear from you from time to time and definitely wish to be remembered when you are all famous!

Ms. Quinn and Ms. Gilbert-Gokhale
Advisors to the Class of 2003

To the class of 2003,

I wish each of you a future filled with health, success, and most of all happiness. Good luck to all!

Love,
Mrs. Talbot

) the Class of '03

You were freshmen when I came to MHS, and I feel as if you are a milestone class for me. May your emories of your high school years be sweet and your plans be realized. Work hard, but remember to be the lookout for surprises and delights.

rs. Singer

Cheres Nicole, Emily, Caitlin, et Lilith-

Quel plaisir de vous enseigner pendant 4 annees!
Bonne chance vous et a tous les "seniors" de ma classe de francais et des annees passees!

Amities,
Mademoiselle Hamwey

our years ago you stepped into this building trying to find your way, trying to find yourself. During is time we have watched you become the amazing individuals that you are today and for that we will ever be the same. We have one message for you all: be true to yourselves and follow your dreams. ere's to the beginning of the rest of your lives! We will miss you.

Ms. P and Ms. Moughty

To the Class of '03-

We started here together in 1999, and the time has flown by. Cherish these days. May the future be so bright, you've gotta wear shades!

Good luck!

LOG 2003

The process of creating a yearbook calls for individuals willing to work hard and dedicate their time towards making the best log possible. At times making a good yearbook is frustrating and time consuming. The 2003 yearbook staff took this challenge head on and succeeded. Log members take time out of their busy schedules to work on the yearbook both during and after school. Yearbook veteran Jim DiSanto helped students make pages and keep up with deadlines. The 2003 yearbook staff would like to thank its dedicated members and Mr. DiSanto for making Log 2003 a success.

Clubs

MHS clubs and organizations are where students and faculty really are able to express themselves. With such a wide variety, there is a place for anyone, and the possibilities are endless due to the diversity of each group. After school students, along with their friends and other members, meet to show their talents and interests. Considering the amount of clubs and organizations, they obviously play a big role in the development of MHS.

Bottom left: Senior Drew Linehan says " Do you smell that"? Senior Kathryn Fink replies "I think Eric had tacos for lunch".

The MHS Drama club has had an amazing year under the great direction of Miss Hiti. Our fall production of The portance of Being Earnest was a comedic success thanks to everyone involved. The talented cast worked hard to hten the mood while entertaining the audience with English accents and muffin fights. The British atmosphere was ablished with everyone's efforts in creating the set.

The winter brought about a dramatic genre switch where the actors would be presented with a new and exciting llenge of performing Requiem for our competition piece. It was incredibly different to synchronize the movement the chorus and present a powerful antiwar statement. Overall the seniors enjoyed their last year, leaving an inspir- example to the underclassmen that they love and will miss.

Sports

"We are Melrose" is the chant that can be heard at almost every sporting event here at Melrose High. This simple statement represents the grueling long practices, the intense perseverance, and the unyielding team spirit that has brought home victory and pride. The special bonds that are made with teammates are those which last a lifetime. Win or lose, attitudes are kept high and the bond never fails. On and off the field, court, rink or track, We are Melrose.

The girl's track team led by Coach Disanto and Coach Reardon was a very strong force in the Middlesex League in the 2002 season. Many new additions, talented freshman, and reliable point-scorers provided a great squad with a lot of depth and strength. Among our victories this season we defeated longtime league power Lexington. The girls also had a very close and exciting competition against the Stoneham team, at which the 4x100m relay was disputed. The girls reran the race the next day and won the meet. All the girls really came together and supported one another. There was a true sense of camaraderie very early in the season. The team had a phenomenal number of girls that qualified for the League Meet and State Meet. Both our 4x100m relay team, with returning sprinters Co-Captain Allison Nordberg and Vanessa Tocco, and our 4x400m relay team, with returning runners Ashley Williams and Susan Tremonte were League All-Stars. Aimee Porcaro was another standout as a very strong multi-events athlete. She qualified for States and was a League All-Star. With many strong returning athletes, the team looks forward to another successful season in 2003.

The 2002 Boys Spring Track team had a rebuilding year. The team was very young, but is showing potential for upcoming seasons. Although their final record was 1-8, the team did have many strong performers and worked hard throughout the season. With a deficit of athletes in the jumps, many underclassmen stepped up to help the team.

Anthony Texiera met the state mark qualifying him in the triple jump, and Gus Fernandes turned in strong performances at every meet. With many more returning athletes next year, the team is hungry for improvement.

Captain Lindsay Shanahan's backhand flawless.

In a phenomenal third season, Head Coach Deb Deacon has led her team to the tournament yet again, their spot was secured by the leadership skills of returning Captain Lindsay Shanahan, who plays first singles. As the team's other players also possess a commanding presence when on the court, Melrose High School's Girls Tennis will prevail for years to come. With contributions made by Seniors Liz Lento and Katie Corso, Juniors Leah Silverstone, Jill Jacobs, and Alexandra Zedros, and Sophomore Jessica Porter, the Varsity team was quite a force to be reckoned with within the Middlesex League.

The boy's tennis team is coming off a huge 2002 season, and is hoping to have the same success in the 2003 spring season. The 2002 season was an exceptional showing for the squad, making their first tournament appearance in four years. Enthusiastic and hard working, the team is determined to have a winning season and show the Middlesex League what they're made of. Returning captain and first singles player Andrew Fried, along with returning team members Chris Vanni, Christoph vonImhof, Jordan Krechmer, Adam Lackett, Dave Forrest, Dan Bearse, and Jared Luxemberg, have high expectations of success. Senior Varsity members Vanni, vonImhof, Krechmer, and Lackett will prove to be crucial to the team's success with their experience on the court .

The Red Raiders baseball squad of 2002 fell just short of their goal to compete in the state tournament last spring. Head coach Paul Kelliher did an excellent job in his first year, taking over from where long-time coach Dave Wilbur left off. Kelliher and his entourage have set the team on a fast pace toward victory, and the team hopes to make a run for the state championship this yr. The raiders are coming into this season with a lot fo experience, returning seven starters and thirteen players altogether. Returning seniors include Cpt. Wayne MacKay, Cpt. Mike Camerlengo, Cpt. Joe Musselman, Ryan Keohane, Dan McClory, Chris Dowd, Peter Cronin, Ian Smith, and Dave McLaughlin. With MacKay, Musselman, and junior Brian Morrissey returning as Middlesex League All-Stars, along with strong underclassmen, Melrose has positioned themselves to rise to the top of the league.

VOLLEYBALL

The girl's volleyball team did an outstanding job this past season. They were lead by junior captains Erin Hudd, Marianne Foley and Amanda LaBella. Who can only be expected to do more amazing things next season. The team finished with a record of 12-8. They also went to the tourney where they finished with a 1-1 record, giving them a 13-9 record overall. Denise Applegate and Erin Hudd were selected as North Shore League All-stars, Middlesex League All-stars were Erin Hudd, Denise Applegate, Marianne Foley and Amanda LaBella. Next season the girls should be stronger than ever since there were no seniors on the team this year and everyone is planning on returning. Great Job Girls!

The 2002 Boys Varsity soccer team proved to everyone that they could make a showing in the tourney despite popular opinion. With a slow start, it seemed like the '02 season might be a struggle. With keeper Jordan Krechmer making 7 shutouts, with the help of the strong defense led by Captain Sweeper Adam Lackett, the team made their mark in the regular season. Captain Center-Mid Joe Musselman led the team in goals at 16, followed closely by Alex Kakambouras with 11, and Sean Davies with 5 goals and 8 assists. After clinching a tourney spot, all focus turned towards claiming the D2 N title again. With two games left in the regular season, the team's hope suffered a major blow when Krechmer took a kick in the throat and had to sit out the first three games of the tournament. His energy on the sidelines and coaching of junior keeper Dan Bearse helped the team pull through and allowed his return against Winchester in the semi-finals. The team kept the fans on the edge of cold bleachers making comeback after comeback-down 1-0 to Danvers, down 3-0 to N. Andover. The season ended just short of the title with a 1-0 loss to Lincoln-Sudbury. Melrose followed the headlines as LS won the state title.

Despite competing on a brand new course, the cross-country girls had an excellent season this year. They finished sixth in the league with a 4-5 record. There were several outstanding runners on the cross-country team this year. Junior, Amanda Lanza was named one of the League All-Stars. Also, the top seven runners, Amanda Lanza, Erica Fousler, Thahn Truong, Jennifer Rafferty, Betsy Johnson, Sarah Brown, and Abigail King, went on to compete in the state meet at Franklin Park. The 2002 boys Cross Country team fared well in the highly competitive Middlesex League. Although the team was comprised mostly of underclassmen, they held their own and came out of the season with a record of 4-5. Senior Co-Captains Alex Barbati and Kyle Emery led the team, followed by sophomore Jon Savary and junior Dave Crespo.

This was the third time in many years that the home course had been changed for the MHS Raiders, competing now across from Spot Pond at MacDonald Park. Although the course no longer possesses Billy Goat and Triples, there are several features that pose an equally tough challenge for runners to come. The first season on the new course was not a winning one, but the team has high expectations for the next year and years to come.

With their fourth coach in four years the Lady Raiders faced a tough season ahead of them. Their sessions started at 6am in late August and they played through the summer heat under Dr. Namin's guidance. Many members of the team attended camp together at UCONN where the girls bonded over Namia and Nada, late night talks and card games. Although the girls did not have the best record in the league, they had the most heart and most team spirit, two things they could not have made it through the season without. In 2003 the team will graduate eleven seniors, Kokeb Abebe, Marianne Aiello, Danielle DeSimone, Ashley Hume, Amy Mason, Lisa McCollem, Katie McGonagle, Alexandra Morales, Capt. Allison Nordberg, Capt. Vanessa Tocco, Capt. Kelly Turner, who will be dearly missed by the team. The girls will never forget "No Mercy," The Purple Tornadoes, pasta parties, tping 'Abort Abort Mission Complete.' dance parties, the bus rides and the halls before practice. Most of the all the girls will always cherish the the friends they have made who, no mater what, will be forever bonded as soccer girls.

The 2002 Melrose High School Golf team has grown over the years. They are currently a well-rounded group of young men that appreciate and love their game. The team had a great fall season, wrapping it up with several commanding individual performances and a terrific effort as a whole team. Senior standout and captain, Mike Gillis, has led his team to an honorable record and helped to make a name for the MHS Golf team. As the only other senior member this season, Chris Dowd also helped to keep the group working well, and the guys' combined enthusiasm has made golf a quickly growing sport at Melrose High. Overall, the season was fun and the boys look forward to many more days on the fairway.

With a strong start to the season, consisting of a 5-0 win over Stoneham, the Lady Raiders set out on a mission, a mission that was successfully completed. The team, led by tri-captains Tiana Monostory, Lindsay Shanahan, and Annie Schweihs, was the first MHS field hockey team tourny bound in six years. Second year coach, Amy Pascarell, assisted by Colleen Cull, was determined to make the state tournament after an upsetting loss last year. Once again the Lady Raiders waited until the last game, but came up with the win with Senior leadership of Krystle Brown, Klaudia Brown, Jamie Mathison, Katie Corso, Shauna O'Donell, Lisa Dipeitro, Aimee Porcaro, Sherry McKillop and Jen Lanza. The team was also powered by League All-Stars Annie Schweihs, Alisha Edwards and State All-Star Bridget Daugsiewicz. The team ended up with and over 500 season, and a first round tourny win.

Three cheers for the girls swim team! The MHS Girls Varsity Swim team had an outstanding season, making and breaking history! This year marked the second and sadly the final season of the Melrose/Stoneham Cooperative Swim Team. It also proved to be the team's best season in a decade, finishing with a 5-5 record. Many swimmers qualified for states including Junior, Abby Pratt and Sophomore, Aley Quinn. The relay team broke MHS records with a time of 1:49:49! Awesome job swimmers!

The 2002 Red Raiders finished the season with a record of 4-7. But, this record does not reflect the amount of effort put in by the players and coaches alike. After working hard throughout the off-season under the leadership of Co-Captains Mike Camerlengo and Ryan Keohane, the Raiders were dealt a big setback as both went down with severe injuries. But the characteristics of a true team are measured in the ways that they deal with adversity. Led by field captains Peter Milligan and Rob Cunningham, the Raiders rolled to three straight victories. In a victory over Watertown, senior Perry Stauffer scored four touchdowns and Kenny Powers, was always a downfield threat for new quarterback Jon Casey. The Raider line was senior laden with Cunningham, Peter Cronin, Baxter Charlton, Paul McClory and Keohane. Senior linebacker Brendan Kent was a constant force for the Raider's defense. The Raiders were rewarded for their hard play all year as seven players were chosen as Middlesex League all-stars. Camerlengo, Keohane, Cunningham, Milligan, Powers, Stauffer and Charlton will represent the Raiders at the Carole Classic in the summer.

The Melrose High School football cheerleaders had a very successful season that was both long and memorable. After tryouts in March, the girls had a summer full of camps and practices. Once the football season started, the team balanced cheering at the games and preparing for competition. In their second year as a competitive squad they were filled with determination to reach their goal of qualifying for the regional competition. A goal that would have been unattainable without the amazing coaching of Suzanne Fogarty. Tri-captains Alana Ferrari, Julie Gunner, and Marisa Lopez guided their team through a fun-filled and victorious season. All of the members of the team walked away with their heads held high, a second place finish in the Middlesex League, and friendships that will last a lifetime. It was truly an unforgettable season.

Although the squad did not record a win through the season, the individual achievements of runners, and camaraderie of all competitors carried the team through the season. First year coach Eugene Metto was able to provide all athletes with sound workouts, even while the track remained under snow and ice for all but two weeks at the beginning of the season.

Senior Captain Kyle Emery qualified in both the 1000-meter run and holds a leg in the qualifying 4x 400m-relay team. Other relay qualifiers included Sophomore Dong Truong, as well as senior Dan McClorey and captain Alex Barbati. On the shorter side of events, Sophomore Eugene Hill qualified in the 45-meter dash and 55-meter hurdles, the only sprinter to qualify on this year's team. Strong contributions to the team were never in short supply.

Although they struggled for points in many events this year, a young team looks forward to growth and development through upcoming spring and fall seasons to better perform in the winter. With only five departing seniors, next year's team is poised for improvement.

The winter of 2002-2003 was a very successful one boy's swim team. Despite being one of the smallest te the MIAA League, the Melrose boys held their own four swimmers who qualified for states, captain Dan ley, Sophomores Greg Webster and Zack Ahren Freshmen Garrett DiBona, the team had plenty of t go around. In the tradition of Melrose Boys Swimming, the record of 3-3 did not do the team justice. Faced with being the second smallest team in the league, pulling off victories against huge teams like Lexington was just under impossible. Despite limiting numbers the Melrose team has some of the best swimmers in the state. Junior Dan Broadly, Sophomores Greg Webster and Zach Aherns, and Freshman Garret DiBona, respresented Melrose at the State Tournament. With only one senior, Greg Gallugi, leaving the team, great things are expected for next year.

Not too many people realize the dedication, determination, and discipline it takes to be a Melrose High School wrestler. It seems that every year, the wrestling team attracts more students to join the sport, starting with the basics and building on a strong foundation. The coaching staff in recent years has shown an outstanding commitment to the team, taking time in the off-season to hold open mat sessions and give advice wherever it is needed. In the winter season of 2002-2003 the boys showed strength of body and mind unlike any year before. In the very competitive Middlesex League, Melrose fielded a tough squad that went through the whole season with only ten of the fourteen weight classes filled. Led by tough senior leadership, the team finished with a 9-9 record and placed several wrestlers in the league, sectional, and state tournaments. Senior captain Mike Miller, Kenny MacIntosh, and Paul Calabro stormed the sectional tournament to make their way to All-States where Miller placed third and received an invitation to the prestigious New England tournament. This year's team overcame many injuries and a shorthanded lineup to finish strong and the senior veterans set an excellent example for next year's team. With many strong wrestlers returning and a new middle school program, the future of Melrose Wrestling looks bright and the seniors wish them the best of luck.

Just like the past four consecutive years, the Melrose High School Lady Raiders have captivated the Middlesex League title. Led by seniors Ashley Needham, Aimee Porcaro, capts. Lindsay Shanahan, Oyin Aderibigbe, and Shannon Kirwan the Lady Raiders entered tournament play with a impressive 20-0 season. The Lady Raiders were a force to be reckoned with as they advanced to the North semi-finals. With the additional help of underclassmen the team was ultimately led by League MVP Shannon Kirwan, All-League Oyin Aderibigbe, Lindsay Shanahan, and League All-Star Marianne Foley. Alongside, juniors Erin Hudd, and first year varsity player Hannah Berg were a big asset to this year's team. Jamie Pearson sidelined this year due to injury, was a positive member of the team always keeping her spirits high and cheering on the team. The team's lone sophomore Christina Scarlatos stepped up her game, but due to a knee injury she was unable to contribute to tournament play. Lastly, freshmen Karen and Paula Sen, have been working hard all season to further the team. Each member was a composite asset to the team, and each brought their own personality, making the team so successful.

Although the 2002-2003 Red Raider hockey team struggled this season, they still managed to keep their heads held high as they continued to work hard. Led by senior captains Peter Milligan and Ken Powers the team produced an upsetting 6-14 record. On a higher note, Mike Kozlowski and Ken Powers both earned the Middlesex League All-Star title. Despite the set backs the team had this season, the boys managed to salvage a 4-3 victory over Melrose's arch rival; the Wakefield Warriors. Their perseverance promises a hard working team in seasons to come.

STRIVING TO BE THE BEST: WINTER CHEERLEADING

Top Left: Senior basketball cheerleading tri-captains Jessica Harrison, Danielle DeSimone, and Julie Gunner with the basketball captains Mike Camerlengo, Matt Glaser and Joe Musselman. Top Middle: Friends for life, Danielle DeSimone and Katie Tullis smile for a picture during the basketball halftime. Top Right: The basketball cheerleaders practice hard to obtain their goal of moving onto the regional competition. Middle: The 2003 Middlesex League Champs pose for a picture with their 1st place trophy! Top-Jillian Robbs, Jessica Arsenault, Denise Applegate, Julie Forbes, Alicia Lessing, Jillian Boyle, Jillian Sherlock, Jessica Laundre, Margarita Kurlyanchik, Molly Geisler, Nicole DeSimone, Erin Clougherty, Middle-Katie Tullis, Danielle DeSimone, Julie Gunner, Bridget Daugsiewicz, Bottom-Jessica Harrison. Bottom: Dedicated sophomores Jessica Laundre, Jillian Sherlock and Nicole DeSimone gather together for a picture at the Middlesex League cheering competition.

The 2002-2003 Basketball cheerleaders had a suprisingly successful season! Under the leadership of tri-captains Danielle DeSimone, Julie Gunner, and Jessica Harrison, as well as second year coach Marybeth Johanson, the squad competed for the first time. After many long practices the team worked hard at perfecting their competition routine. With additional help and leadership from fellow seniors Bridget Daugsiewicz and Katie Tullis the squad prepared for their league competition. The struggling squad exemplified teamwork at the end of the season, and wowed the crowd when they took first place in the Middlesex League Competition! This squad proves that hard work pays off, and leaves the school wondering what lies in store in future seasons!

Faculty

They educate us, they lead us, and they inspire us. For the past four years, they have been an unwavering source of guidance and support. Somehow, while carrying out their duties as disciplinarians and authority figures, they have also become respected role models and mentors to many. They come in early, stay late, and go beyond the call of duty to help us reach our full potential. The faculty of MHS is the heart of the school, and this diverse group has dedicated their lives to opening doors for students.

Underclassmen

We were all there once- inexperienced, naive, and lost within the labyrinth that is MHS. The senior class knew what that was like, and helped in making the adjustment easier for underclassmen by setting an example and showing leadership. Over the past years, the seniors and underclassmen have intertwined- creating friendships, relationships and all that's in between. Together they have united our school and created a happy and fun environment. Next year a new door will be opened. The underclassmen will have no problem filling the seniors shoes as they carry on as a class and as individuals.

Business

As the old clichè goes, "It takes a village to raise a child." That theory is especially true in Melrose: The students of MHS have been supported in nearly all of their activities by the generosity of local businesses and organizations. Whether donating food to a sport's banquet, hosting a fundraiser, or purchasing an advertisement in the Log, local establishments always seem to find some way to help out. Their goodwill opens doors of opportunity that would otherwise be impossible. To all of the many businesses who support MHS: Thank You!

IT'S HERE . . . GRADUATION 2003
Megan O'Leary

In a matter of days we'll be saying goodbyes,
To the halls that have become our own.
The cafetorium will be hushed with one less class,
As we wave farewell to the teachers we've known.

The lobby couches will be empty.
The classrooms . . . just bare spaces.
In the month after we close our lockers one last time,
MHS will be filled by the memory of our smiling faces.

Many of us loved this place,
Though at times the love was a strain.
There were many great times enjoyed by all,
There were times the whole class endured pain.

We opened the doors that were locked behind us,
We entered through the main door as one class
Now we remain one unit to leave
Opening doors to the future, shutting doors to the past.

Goodbye classrooms without windows.
Goodbye open space.
Goodbye classes in the weight room.
Though we make fun, we will miss this place.

The times we have spent together
Are sadly coming to a close
The proms, the parties, the games . . .
It's hard to believe we are leaving Melrose.

We complained about the homework,
About the lack of things to do.
Now when it all seems to be leaving us,
The disappointments seem few.

On Saturday we will sit on the football field,
Listening for our names to be read
This is the moment we've been waiting for,
We shall soon toss the caps from our heads.

We hug our family.
We hug our friends.
We want to hold on to this moment forever.
It's here . . . It's the end.
